Title: Enhancing the skill of Teaching English using Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary among Upper Primary English Teachers

1.0 Introduction

A dictionary is a reference book containing the words of a language usually alphabetically arranged, with information on their forms, pronunciations, functions, meanings, etymologies, spellings and idiomatic uses. Most of this information cannot be found in other reference books. It is important to consider several advantages in the use of dictionaries. In the very early stages of learning, even an inadequate bilingual dictionary can provide an important support and be a quick reference book. In the language learning or teaching process the importance of using dictionaries cannot be denied. It is obvious that the dictionary can be an extremely useful learning resource, especially as it makes the learner more independent of the teacher.

If the teachers and students learn how to use a dictionary effectively, then the dictionary can be a very helpful resource for teaching learning activities. Training in the effective use of a dictionary will be of help in selecting the meaning and various other special features available in the dictionary. The most important basic skill in using a dictionary is to find a word or expression one has in mind. Then, one has to find out the meaning of the word, however, there is a problem of choosing an appropriate meaning to the given context when several meanings are defined. For instance, we can identify many senses of the word "see" by means of a dictionary exploitation.

I can't see Radha anywhere. (perceive with the eye)

The security guard asked to see our passes. (inspect)

Can you see what I mean? (understand)

We are going to see a film tonight. (be a spectator at)

I could see that you were having an argument with him. (perceive with the eye)

I would like to see the manager please. I have a complaint. (have a meeting with)

When the above dictionary definitions and example sentences are examined, it is seen that each sentence can be interpreted differently because of the contextual clues and different dictionary definitions for the same word . Therefore, it is safe to advise language students to analyse the different meanings of an unknown word by means of dictionary usage.

Some students may not be aware of the efficient ways of using a dictionary. In general, they only take the entry as the final option and do not explore other possibilities of meaning or they do not usually think of looking up a familiar word like "bring", "call " or "get". But the meanings of these words may change depending on the usage of them in different contexts and may create difficulty for language students. Haphazardness of students while using dictionaries for their specific lexical needs may sometimes bring about deficient or erroneous interpretations for the students are inclined to adopt the first meaning they happen to come across without bothering themselves for the rest. Thus, when we introduce techniques for using dictionaries, we should teach students to look up a word that seems familiar, when it appears in a sentence that is difficult to understand. For instance, the word "chair" is known by language students who have learned to name furniture: but for some, the word will cause difficulty in sentences like "He was appointed to the Chair of Science at the university" or "He will chair the meeting". It is possible that the word "chair" in the students' language knowledge would not have these meanings. Students usually assume that they already know the meaning of an ordinary word, so they do not try to find another meaning for it. Therefore, the ability to use a dictionary should not be taken for granted in language classes.

Another important factor to consider is the students' unawareness of the information that a dictionary contains. A dictionary generally contains at least the following information about each word which can be used by the foreign language learners.

1. Its spelling
2. The standard pronunciation
3. Definitions to represent the word's one or more meanings
4. Parts of speech, such as noun, verb or preposition
5. Example sentence in which the word used
6. Synonym
7. Antonym.

Other information may be included, such as the etymology or history of the word and whether the word is "non-standard" or "absolute". The history of a word is usually given at the beginning of the entry and often gives information about the way the word has developed its current meaning. Placing a word's etymology before its definitions enables the reader to see where the first meaning of the word comes from. Many people, however, want to know what the most common current meaning of a word is, and they expect to find that meaning given first. In recognition of this fact, some dictionaries now place the etymology at the end of each entry, after the definitions. A dictionary may be more than a reference book about a word, it can contain biographical and geographical knowledge as well as lists of weights, measures, symbols and so on.

Bilingual and monolingual dictionaries are the most used dictionaries by the foreign language learners. Students generally like to use bilingual dictionaries because they bring instant satisfaction, while teachers prefer monolinguals for their long term benefits. It is difficult to answer the question "which dictionary serves the learner best?" Bilingual dictionaries are generally employed in the initial stages of learning a language and may help the learner solve their terminological problems unless the unfamiliar word has numerous entries. Many bilingual dictionaries give only single word translations, as a result of which learners are bound to make mistakes.

Advantages of using the monolingual dictionaries

1. Users have to think in English.
2. Meanings have to be understood in terms of other English words, promoting a more rapid expansion of passive vocabulary.
3. Many high-frequency function words which are virtually inaccessible via bilingual dictionaries may be given appropriate treatment.
4. Learners may gain insights into the precision of defining and describing meanings, and constructing example sentences, as well as learning to cope with definitions which at first seem unclear.
5. The example sentences themselves not only exemplify typical usage but also provide an access to the meaning.

6. The ability to use the monolingual dictionaries effectively allows students the satisfaction of exploration through the dictionary, a sense of self-sufficiency and greater confidence in their ability to solve language problems for themselves. This in turn helps students to recognize and formulate their own language problems and questions in the first instance.

English is not uniform over the vast areas where it is spoken; and no single grammar or grammatical approach has dealt with the entire language. Dictionaries often supply information about the language not found elsewhere. The utility of the dictionary as a reliable source for word meanings, spelling, and pronunciation is widely recognized. A good dictionary also contains information about grammar, usage status, synonym discrimination, application of derivative affixes, and distinctions between spoken and written English not generally treated in textbooks. Thus the dictionary becomes an indispensable weapon in the teacher's hand. The teacher must be able to discriminate among dictionaries, interpreting with linguistic sophistication the information they contain.

2.0 Need for the Action Research

Teachers use dictionaries for the purpose of finding the meaning for unknown or new words. The purpose of a dictionary is not to find the meaning of words. Dictionary can be used for the purpose of learning a language, learning to speak, learn to communicate, learn the pronunciation and more. A simple dictionary can be used for the purpose of finding the meaning hence, a simple dictionary cannot serve the purpose of learning the language. Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary can be used for learning the language, leading to the enhancement of teaching skill, communication skill of teachers. Most of the teachers use a simple and ordinary dictionary which cannot be used for language learning purposes.

The benefits of dictionaries to language learners should not be ignored in language classes. Unfortunately, in most classrooms, very little time is provided for dictionary use. But it is an undeniable fact that a learner who makes good use of a dictionary will be able to continue learning outside the classroom and this will give him considerable autonomy about the decisions he makes about his own learning. In a teaching and learning situation, therefore, dictionary training should be an integral part of any syllabus.

Based on this background information, the practitioner felt this kind of study is necessary to enhance the English teaching skill among the upper primary teachers using Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary.

3.0 Objectives of the Action research

- To train the teachers to use Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary
- To provide hands on training to use Oxford dictionary
- To make the teachers familiarise with the features available in the Oxford dictionary
- To develop the habit of referring Oxford dictionary to use all the available features
- To enhance the teaching skill among the upper primary teachers

4.0 Hypothesis

English teaching skills of primary teachers will be enhanced after the intervention of the study.

5.0 Methodology

Pre-analysis, intervention, post-analysis design was followed in this action research.

6.0 Sample

9 Upper primary school teachers handling English subject from Dharmapuri and Karimangalam block were selected as samples for the study by convenient sampling method.

Details of the sample

7.0 Tool A pre analysis tool consisting of 6 questions was developed by the practitioner. The practitioner conducted an interview and discussion with teachers to study the dictionary usage among the teachers during the teaching learning process in their respective schools.

8.0 Pre analysis

During the pre analysis details related to the availability of dictionaries in their school, usage will be collected through a questionnaire. The discussion covered details regarding the dictionary available in the school, purpose of English dictionary for teachers, purpose of English dictionary for students, how and when dictionaries are used for teaching learning activity. One day orientation programme was conducted for the teachers at District Institute of Education and Training, Settikarai, Dharmapuri on 23.1.2024. The Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary was given to all 9 teachers and hands-on practice was given and the special features available in the dictionary were explained to them.

9.0 Intervention

The intervention activities were carried out in two phases, phase 1. Orientation to teachers, phase 2. Intervention activities at school.

Phase-1. Orientation to teachers. The Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary has many special features. Generally dictionaries are used for finding the meaning of words, this will not help learning English among students. This dictionary is a learner's dictionary. Oxford dictionaries are issued to each teacher for the intervention purpose. Exposure about the features of the dictionary and the details of the intervention process was given to the teachers at DIET.

Phase-2. Intervention activities at school.

Teachers used the dictionary during the teaching learning process in their class, focussing on the special features in the dictionary. Illustrative sentences are also given for all words, with the help of illustrative sentences the learner can easily and confidently speak English. Two months time was given to carry out the intervention activities, during the period the intervention activities were monitored by the practitioner at regular intervals. The special features available in the Oxford Advanced learner's dictionary are highlighted in the dictionary. Few examples are as follow,

1.Word family:

able-ably-ability-disabled, derivation of many words from one.

Care-Careful -carefully-caring.

Comfort-comfortable-comfortably-comforting,

Deep-deeply-deepen-depth,

Force-forceful, forcefully-forced-forcible-forcibly-enforce

2.Homophones:

e.g., minor-noun- children aged below the age of 18

Miner -noun- one who works in the mines

Allowed- he was allowed to participate

Aloud - speak aloud in front of the audience

Blew-verb- past tense of blow

Blew - adjective-both candidates were blue jeans

Blue-noun- they chose an intense blue for the walls

Brake-noun-it is a parking brake of the car

Brake-verb-there was not even time for the driver to brake

Break-verb-break the biscuit in to small pieces

Break-noun-they left the office for a lunch break.

3.Which word: Which is the correct word to use in a particular place,

e.g., affect-effect.

Alone-on your own, by yourself, describe a person or thing that is separate from other,

Lone-solitary-single- means that there is only one person or thing there, lone and solitary may sometimes suggest that the speaker thinks the person involved is lonely, a lone jogger in the park.

Quick-quickly is the usual adverb form of quick,

Quickly realised that I was on the wrong train,

My heart started to beat more quickly,

Fast is the more often used when you're talking about the speed that somebody or something moves at,

How fast can a cheetah run? Can't you drive any faster?.

4.Express yourself:

What are the other words which can be used for agreeing, eg., agreeing- yes, that's right, exactly, absolutely, definitely, yes I suppose, I agree, I think you are right, I would go along with your idea.

I am sorry - I am afraid I am not satisfied with this,

I'm sorry, this is not acceptable

Excuse me - this is not what I asked for, I ordered the soup, not the salad.

Advise-give someone advise,

If I were you, I would wait,

I think you should ought to see a doctor,

If you want to know what I think I would say it is better to tell him,

I would advise you to sell it now.

5.Language bank: What are the other equivalent words to a given word,

Eg., About - the book is about, the report deals with, the writer discusses, the novel explores, the chapter examines, the paper considers.

Except-making an exception-

She wrote all of the songs on the album except for the final track,

Apart from /aside from the final track, all of the songs on the album were written by her,

The song writing - with a few minor exceptions - is of a very high quality.

Surprising- what is surprising- about these results is that boys are more likely to be left handed than girls.

Surprisingly, boys are more likely to be left handed than girls.

6.Word finder: different words related to a given word, eg., Actor- the related words are, audition, body double, cameo, cast, play, role, star, stuntman.

Manager-accountant, agent, auditor, CEO, chairman, consultant, entrepreneur, executive, manager.

Money- credit, debt, deposit, interest, lend, money, mortgage, overdraft, risk

Command - admiral, aircraft, carrier, base, captain, command, fleet, submarine, torpedo, warship. disaster - avalanche, cyclone, earthquake, eruption, flood, hurricane, landslide, tornado, tsunami.

7.Synonyms: similar words, eg., advertisement- publicity, ad, advert, commercial, promotion, trailer.

Call - to shout or say something loudly to attract somebody's attention /thought/

Cry out -to shout something loudly, especially when you need help or are in trouble. She cried out for help, I cried out his name.

See- to become aware of something / somebody using your eyes, she looked for him but could not see him in the crowd, he could see that she had been crying.

Witness, observer, onlooker, passerby bystander, eye witness,

8.Vocabulary building.

e.g., approximately- the tickets cost about, the repair will cost Rs. 200, give or take a few rupees, more or less, roughly 10%, roundabout, somewhere around.

Good- Good and very good, delicious / tasty, exciting / entertaining, pleasant / enjoyable.

Break-

Burst-the balloon hit a tree and burst,

Crack-the ice started to crack,

Cut the wire in to two,

Crumble- crumble the cheese in to a bowl,

Fracture- he fell and fractured his hip.

Laughing-

Cackle-to laugh in a loud, unpleasant way, especially in a high voice,

Chuckle-to laugh quietly especially because you are thinking about something funny,

Giggle - to laugh in a silly way because you are embarrassed, nervous or you think something is funny.

Details of intervention activities at school and Teachers' Experience about the usage of Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary

The experience of using the dictionary, its effectiveness among the students and teachers were collected from the teachers.

10.0 Result of Post analysis.

During the post analysis the experience of using the dictionary, its effectiveness among the students and teachers were analysed by the practitioner. Teachers have followed the orientation given to them and instructions given by the practitioner during the intervention period. The experience of teachers reveals that the dictionary has been used exhaustively in the teaching learning process, apart from referring to the meaning for words the dictionary has been used for referring to special features that would help to learn English. Based on the post analysis it is concluded that the action research has achieved its objectives. The hypothesis mentioned by the practitioner "English teaching skills of primary teachers will be enhanced after the intervention of the study." was accomplished in this action research.

11.0 Statistics Statistical Techniques were not used to analyse the data. The data for the study was obtained by means of interview and discussion, the information obtained from the teachers during the pre analysis and post analysis were analysed by the practitioner and conclusions were derived and described.

12.0 Findings

This action research was conducted in order to introduce the special features available in the Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary among the teachers teaching English. Following the one day training given to the selected teachers at District Institute of Education and Training, Settikarai, Dharmapuri, the teachers started using the dictionary effectively for the benefit of students. The teaching learning experience shared by the teachers reveal that the given Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary has been used for the maximum within the given time limit, and students have also been benefited by this effort of the Action research carried out in their schools.

13.0 Educational Implications

Upper Primary teachers have become familiar with the additional features available in the Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary which will be useful for improving the teaching method of teachers in the class, and also improving the learning of English among the students. The conventional practice of referring to the dictionary to find the meaning would be changing to the next level of learning English. Students would develop the habit of referring to the Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary to use all the available features, thereby, the skill of learning English will be enhanced.

14.0 Recommendation

Schools have been supplied with dictionaries which can be used for referring to the meaning. Through this study it is recommended that a comprehensive learner's dictionary may be supplied to all schools to enhance the teaching and learning of English. A one day training may also be given about the benefit and usage of such a dictionary so that all teachers may gain the knowledge of using such a learner's dictionary for the betterment of students.

ACTION RESEARCH

Experience of using Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary

Name : D.Salini

Designation : B.T. Asst.

School : P.U.M. School, Periyakurumpatti.

As per the orientation given by S.Senthilkumar, Lecturer, DIET, Dharmapuri, the Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary was used by me for teaching learning activities in my class. The dictionary consists of many features which support learning English rather than finding the meaning of words as other dictionaries do. Some of the features used in the classroom activities are discussed below.

FEEDBACK

The orientation training given by the DIET Lecturer on 23/1/24 was very useful for us. As per Sir's instruction we implemented the usage of Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary for the past two months. It was a nice experience for us. Though we have used the Basic dictionaries of Oxford in the classroom during guided reading for finding meaning for hard and new words, this Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary helps us to enhance the teaching of English more enthusiastic. While teaching English in the classroom with this dictionary the students were eager to find the meaning using it and as we experience we find additional information about each and every word. It also helps us to enhance our vocabulary skills.

FEED BACK

The Action Research, dictionary usage training was given by S. Senthil Kumar, Lecturer from Diet on 23.01.2024. It was very useful for us. Most commonly, a dictionary can be used to look up the meaning, spelling, usage, origin (or) Synonyms of any word in most languages. While using this Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary, it provides essential help and more information for middle level and pre-intermediate learners including Grammar, pronunciation, and Spelling assistance. I had a great experience while taking this dictionary usage topic. It's very easy to understand and practical. It helps me, improve my teaching, learning level. Thanks to my lecturer for correct guidance. Thank you so much Sir.

The Action Research training on Dictionary usage was given by Mr. S. Senthilkumar, Lecturer from DIET on 23.1.2024.

By doing this action research I came to know what are the new features added in this Dictionary and how to make use of it while teaching English Language.

Commonly, students searched Synonyms only in Dictionary so far. But after giving this Dictionary task, students were able to search and find out HOMOPHONES, WHICH WORD, WORD FAMILY, LANGUAGE BANK, WORD FINDER, SYNONYMS, EXPRESS YOURSELF, PRONUNCIATIONS & VOCABULARY BUILDING.

I too was able to teach a number of vocabulary activities and meanings of unfamiliar words. Students were able to learn a lot of words & to find out unknown words while speaking & writing English Language.

This OXFORD Advanced Learner's Dictionary is the indispensable resource to improve vocabulary among the students.

Thank You so much for having given me this wonderful opportunity.
