Once upon a time, there was a rabbit who was known for his speed. He loved boasting about how fast he could run and would often make fun of other animals for being slow. One day, he came across a tortoise who was walking very slowly. The rabbit said, "You are so slow! I bet I could beat you in a race without even trying." The tortoise, wise and composed, replied, "I may be slow, but I am determined. If you are up for a race, let's give it a try." Excited to prove his speed, the rabbit agreed and the race began. The rabbit hopped ahead, leaving the tortoise far behind. Confident of his victory, the rabbit decided to take a nap under a shady tree since he was so far ahead. Meanwhile, the tortoise kept moving along steadily, never losing sight of the finish line. When the rabbit woke up, he was surprised to see the tortoise nearing the finish line. With a burst of energy, the rabbit ran fast towards the finish line, but it was too late. The tortoise had already crossed it. The rabbit was shocked and realized that his overconfidence made him lose in the race.
